Working Together

Community benefits work best when they are designed and delivered with local communities. They are distinct from public benefits, which extend more broadly across society. This leaflet provides examples of local community benefits.

LISTEN & ENGAGE

Understand local priorities, knowledge and opportunities.

WORK TOGETHER

Co-design proportionate benefits and agree how they will be delivered.

KEEP IT LOCAL

Create lasting social, environmental and economic value.

After the community benefits have been identified, these should be written down and agreed by all parties. There are different types of agreement to consider, such as a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU), Community Benefit Agreement or Sale or Lease Agreement.

Support

The Natural Capital Community Partnership team can provide advice, resources and tailored support to identify and deliver community benefits from natural capital projects.
